TROLL THOUGHTS

Why not convert a plastic Eldar Guardian model into a leader by doing a head swop with a plastic Dark Eldar model?

Rather than throw away your unwanted plastic sprues, cut them up into short sections of the same length and scatter them around your ruined building terrain – they look great as loose bricks!

If you have an Undead army, why not use models which are rising from the grave to represent units that are summoned during the course of a battle?

Da Black Gobbo finks...

Dis month TROLL has been taken over by me, da Black Gobbo. So ignore da new Space Marine Assault Squad, Dark Eldar Scourges, Dark Eldar Incubi and Empire Crossbowmen and feast your eyes on my mates, da great new Night Goblin regiment and Doom Diver. You can even get a bunch of us together and pulp da stunties wiv our fab Gobbo army deal.

TROLL 14, makes the Dwarf look fat!

A Keeper of Secrets is a lithe, titanic monster with two pairs of arms, one pair ending in long chitinous claws. Keepers of Secrets are highly intelligent creatures, whose silvered words and languid gestures belie their true power. A mortal creature will gaze in awe at the Keeper of Secrets' captivating appearance, while the Daemon's terrible claws tear his transfixed body apart.

TO ARMS! (and legs)

The new Warhammer Regiments boxed sets provide a great source of excellent rank and file troops for your army. The addition of metal components give you an even greater number of possibilities, and when you start to introduce other bits and bobs the possibilities become endless. Check out these ideas we came up with by just glueing various bits from the Empire sprue to parts of other figures, and remember that there are plenty of other regements to checkout.

Did you love the Perry twins' Pikemen in White Dwarf 227, but aren't too sure you could manage the conversion? Well try these as an easy alternative. All we did was add the pike from one of the Dogs of War regiments to the Halberdier arms and hey presto instant Empire Pikemen!

Get a regiment of 16 Pikemen consisting of an Empire regiment of your choice and 13 pikes for only £16.50

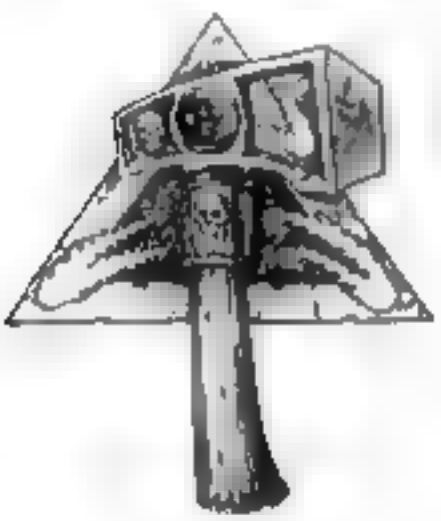
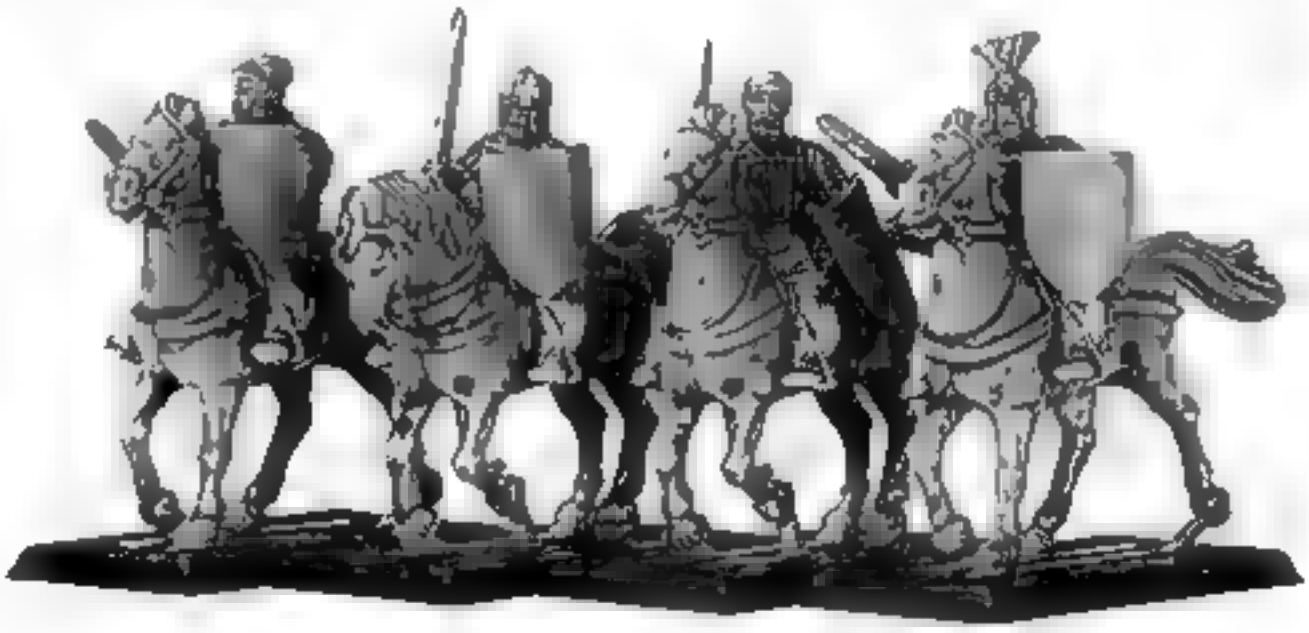
11A





Why not try combining the soldiers' torsos with pistolier legs to create mounted swordsmen? The leftover legs can be used with the torsos from the pistoliers or even Outriders to make great champions for Hand Gunner regiments or Empire heroes on foot!

Get enough pieces to make a unit of 8 mounted Swordsmen and 8 foot pistoliers for only £33.00
